INDIA RUBBER SHOES.—The manufacture of this article has reached a number of millions in value yearly. The first cost to manufacture ladies' shoes is about 25 cents per pair, and the retail price is one dollar. The first cost of those of men's wear is from 31 to 36 cents per pair, and the prical price about one and a quarter to one and a half dollars per pair. The daily product in the United Rates is over 15,600 pair. The process by which those shoes are made, has thus far been kept a secret. This art is of great value and importance, and has not we been discovered in Europe. The profits on this business will reach about two millions of dollars, this year, and the present manufactories cannot supply the demand. Shoes which weigh ame ences per pair, have only about three and a half ounces of rubber, the other materials being worth only from one to sax cents per pound. One girl can make from 30 to 40 pair per day, for which her wages are two to three cents per pair. The expense of curing or heating twelve hundred per down on treach three dollars. In 1848, four establishments made a new arrangement, paying Charles Goodyear to reliquish all claim he might be supposed to have in any patents at all applicable in the manufacture of Boats and Shoes, the sum of ten thousand dollars. The associates remeing to take the risk of, and all profits or loss resulting from litigation—saving Goodyear from all cost and damage; and in consideration of half cont per pair, to be paid to Goodyear, he has signed and convered the right to use his name, whenever desard, to institute proceedings at law against any one who may be engaged in the business of making India Rubbia Shoes. And part of the agreement, which was published in full in the New York Herald, 30th May, contains the following:

"All the shoe business in which India Rubber is used, as a component part thereof, shall be deemed and taken to be arried on under this agreement reads:

Sudge M. M. Nosh said in his Weekly Messenger, Jan. 5, 1240;
"Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters — Here is a preparation which the leading presses in the Union appear to be unanimous in recommending, and the reason is obvious. Ris made after a prescription furnished by one of the most celebrated physicians of modern times—the late Dr. Wilhelm Hoofland, Professor to the University of Jona, private physician to the King of Prussis, and one of the greatest medical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emphatically the enemy of humbug; and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor and inderser, may be confidently reind on. He especially recommended it in Liver complaint, Dyspessis, Debnity, Vertico, Acidity of the Stomach, the Layer and intestines. Nine Philadelphia papers express their conscittion of its excellence, and some of the Editors speak of its effects from their own individual experience. Under these circumstances we feel warranted, in not only calling the attention of our readers to the present proprietor's (Dr. C. M. Jackson's) preparation, but in recommending the article to all afflicted."

"It is seidom that we recommend what are termed Patent Mechcines, to the confidence and patronage of our readers; and, therefore, when we recommend Dr. Hoodand's German Bitters, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the nostrons of the day, that are noised about for a brief period and then forgotter, after they have done their guilty race of mischief, but of a medicine long established, universally prized, and which has met the hearty approved of the faculty itself."
